

Meckauer Design+Build assisted our family in acquiring and rebuilding a residential property in Carmel Valley, CA which had been cited with planning and building code violations. With a redesign and submittal of revised plans, Robert Meckauer was able to navigate the difficult process of obtaining a permit for reconstruction of approximately 4500SF of useable space. An extensive process including Planning Design Review and approval by Fire, Water, and the Building Department were all necessary for final approval. Numerous consultants were also coordinated by Mr. Meckauer, including but not limited to Geotechnical, Civil, and Structural Engineers.

Currently we are enjoying our new home which includes a fully remodeled kitchen, new dining room, bedroom additions, new bathrooms, and a complete refurbishment of interior and exterior finishes. It was Mr. Meckauer's consistent attention to detail and his design skills that allowed us to complete this project, and would recommend Meckauer Design+Build for this or any similar project.

As a top listing and sales agent for Coldwell Banker I have had numerous occasions to utilize Robert Meckauer of Meckauer Design+Build for many of my client's needs. Many sellers and buyers need architectural and construction related improvements; or assistance with the County regarding zoning requirements, building codes and construction cost estimates.

I have found Meckauer Design+Build to handle all my needs with an efficient, courteous manner. I know Robert will work hand in hand with my clients, making my job easy and satisfied clients. Robert is particularly good at remodel plans, and building permits. Robert's architectural skills and his expertise in navigating the difficult permit process have repeatedly proven successful for my many clients. Meckauer Design+Build is an excellent source, there is no job too big or too small. I recommend Robert wholeheartedly!

Seeking to demolish an existing garage structure and rebuild with a new 2-story wood frame 2500SF residence, I retained the services of Meckauer Design+Build to design the new building within the city of Los Angeles. The new design has retained the character of the original neighborhood, as well as providing a floor plan suitable to our requirements.

With the assistance of Mr. Meckauer, we now have an engineered set of drawings compatible with local codes and "green building" requirements. I appreciate the attention to detail Mr. Meckauer has provided and would recommend his services to anyone with similar projects.

As current owners of a large hillside property in Ventura, California we retained Meckauer Design+Build for extensive improvements to our property. Mr. Meckauer provided preliminary design sketches and final construction documents for a seismically engineered deck, a redesign of our exterior for a “craftsman” motif, an impressive garden trellis structure, and lastly a completely remodeled third floor master suite which now provides full access to our view of downtown Ventura and the Pacific Ocean.

Meckauer Design+Build also provided project management services during much of our reconstruction, providing recommendations for skilled subcontract trades, a schedule, and budget. Robert was also available for many onsite questions and detail clarification. Please accept this letter as high recommendation for Meckauer Design+Build.
